For some time now there has been a large demand for high quality salmon and steelhead flies that are designed and proved effective for species along the west coast of North America. Any one who has had the privilege of fishing Alaska and other more secluded regions of the west coast know that good fly shops are often hard to come by.

Even when you find one of those treasures along the road they are often sold out of all the hot steelhead and salmon fly patterns by the time you get there. Having a river teeming with salmon and not having the flies needed is a disaster most fly fishermen would like to avoid. We specialize in tying quality flies that will allow you to have a memorable trip without the frustration of finding your flies on your journey.

Though we have been selling flies locally since 1988, we now offer all of our patterns to customers worldwide. Our flies are unique in that they are ALL tied locally in our shop. We pride ourselves in not selling flies that have been tied overseas, in shops where quality supplies and higher labour standards are lacking. Of course with all of our salmon and steelhead flies being made "in-house", we can also make any changes or adjustments to our patterns that might suit your fishing needs best.

We sell our salmon and steelhead flies individually and in fly kits. Too many sites offer flies in dozens or even larger minimum quantities. Of our over 150 salmon and steelhead flies, you the customer, can organize your order down to the individual fly. It's just the same as if you were actually in a fly shop.

Selection Kits

For some time now we have had repeated requests for "Kits" or "samplers". We've often given out suggestion lists to customers targeting specific areas and species. Now we have finally organized our patterns into groups! We've come together with 15 different kits that showcase twelve patterns that are specifically geared for a certain purpose or species. We also offer water tight boxes for an additional $4.00.... a great way to store your selections or to give as gifts!
